BIG CROWD AT SHEEPSHEAD

The Talent Landed Heavily on Eclipse and Reclare.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, June 20.-The weather was delightfully cool and pleas-ant at Sheepshead Bay to-day, and when one thought of the scorching days to come at Je-rome Park one left like consigning the New Jersey authorities to an even warmer place or interfering with Monmouth Park's racing this season. At Sheepshead to-day people could wear Winter wraps without serious discomfort, for the breeze was cold and came directly off the ocean.

The programme for to-day was exception ally brilliant, and it attracted a large crowd of people to the track. The Great Trial Stakes in particular was the feature of the day, for it ought together the finest class of two-yearolds yet seen this year. Three Realization candidates - Montana, Everybody said Eclipse would win. By everybody is meant that portion of the public known as the talent. They profess to know it all, and their money going in on Eclipse made him the favorite. # MESEROLE IN JAIL.

Jealousy Caused the Quarrel Which Ended in Larbig's Death, plice in the Killing.

They got away in good order with Dagonet. Both Men in Love With a Beautiful But Infamous Woman.

> She is the Daughter of Col. Forney an Old Washington Editor.

Two carriages, with curtains closely drawn left the Raymond Street Jall in Brooklyn just before 9 o'clock this morning and drove rapidly over to Justice Tighe's Court at Butler and Court streets. One of them contained young Darwin J. Meserole, the slayer of Theodore Larbig, whom he shot through the heart in the apartments of Mrs. Dovie F. Comstock, at 378 Sackett street, last Saturday night. Gen. Jeremiah V. Meserole, Brooklyn's City Surveyor, who is the young man's father, and Detective Rourke were his companions.

In the other carriage was Mrs. Comstock, the cause of the fatal encounter between the two men. She was in charge of Desective Raleigh. Both the woman and young Meserole had been confined in the Raymond street jall since Saturday night, and no one had been allowed to see them.

When they reached Justice Tighe's court the street in front of the entrance was crowded with people eager to catch a glimpse of the actors in Brooklyn's latest sensation. Young Meserole was very pale, but seemed to be cool and collected, and paid no attention to the bystanders as he jostled past them into the court-room.

His gray-haired father, however, showed plainly that he was suffering keenly from the disgrace which had fallen upon his family. and he followed the detective with bowed head and tettering steps.

The crowd made way for Mrs. Dovie Com-time. Neither was arraigned in open court, going to third. but the papers committing young Meserole to Raymond Street Jail until the Coroner should take action in the matter, were drawn up and signed.

Mr. Meserole and his lawyer, Mr. Gaynor. requested Judge Tighe to fix ball for the young man, but he declined to entertain the proposition. He said, however, that he would discharge Mrs. Comstock.

During these proceedings young Meserole sat in the back room, reading the morning papers and appeared to be unconcerned and
